VOL. CXXXV—No. 260. ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1919. PRICE ONE CENT

CHARLES C. CARLIN IS HONORED BY CITIZENS

PRESENTATION BY M. B. HARLOW

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer Makes Eloquent Address—Urges Increased Production to Help Reduce The High Cost of Living—Real Menace He Says is Fear of Hunger This Winter Unless Something is Done to Speed up Production.

A handsome silver service, containing 1,400 pieces together with a gold watch suitably inscribed, the gift of the citizens of Alexandria, last night were presented to former Representative C. C. Carlin as a token of their appreciation of his faithful service in Congress from the Eighth district which he so ably represented for a period of twelve years and from which he retired a comparatively short time ago, after securing the nomination, in order to devote his time to private business affairs.

A capacity crowd attended the exercises which were under the auspices of the Cameron Club and the occasion was graced by the presence of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer who delivered an able and appropriate address.

M. B. Harlow, former city treasurer made a gracious speech of presentation in which he lauded Mr. Carlin as a faithful and efficient citizen. Mr. Harlow succiently outlined the business activities of Mr. Carlin from his boyhood days up to the present time. Among other things he said he served under him as deputy city treasurer for a period of six years and he enumerated the various other places of importance, both public and private offices, held by Mr. Carlin during his public career up to the time he entered the halls of Congress.

Referring to the Congressional record of Mr. Carlin, Mr. Harlow said the whole time and service of Mr. Carlin was given over to his constituents for whom he worked faithfully in season and out of season and that no one who applied to him were "turned down." The speaker said Mr. Carlin never lost an opportunity to advance the interest of his home city. In concluding his speech of presentation Mr. Harlow said: 'It affords me the greatest pleasure of my life to make this presentation."

Judge J. K. M. Norton made a short address from his place in the hall. He paid a tribute to the worth of Mr. Carlin in which he praised his work in Congress.

Inscription on Gift

The gift bears the folowing inscription: "Presented by a grateful people as an expression of the affection of his fellow townsmen to Hon. C. Carlin upon his voluntary retirement from Congress March 4, 1919 after twelve years of honest, faithful and efficient public service."

Response By Mr. Carlin

Mr. Carlin responded as follows:

Madam President:

Gentlemen of the Committee and fellow citizens:

It is difficult indeed to express in words the depth of my appreciation, and to attempt it would, I am sure, be futile, yet, if it were possible for you to look into my heart tonight, you would not need words to assure you of my sincere gratitude for this expression of your confidence and esteem. These beautiful gifts would be sufficient to swell one's heart with pride but when accompanied with the sweet sentiments expressed in the inscriptions which they bear together with the burning words of your spokesman, my friend, Mr. Harlow, I am simply overcome.

Nothing was needed to quicken my affection for this old town and the people amongst whom I have lived for a half a century, and the little I have done to advance their interests seems small compared with what I would have to do.

It is the fate of most men to die without learning just what value is placed upon their services, and flowers bloom only for their graves. It is my good fortune to receive mine now.

The joy you give me and mine tonight will be an inspiration to me to continue in your service and to help you meet the responsibilities which have been thrust upon you by increased population and prosperity. These responsibilities are great and we must cast our vision forward so that in the march of progress we may clearly see the way. We will soon come into our own. The young men born here who have gone elsewhere to seek their fortunes are coming back home to embrace the opportunities which are now offered. The future of this city is assured.

I am glad to have had a small part in the god work that has been going on and gladder still to be so substantially assured of your appreciation and esteem. Many honors have come to me in the years gone by but I can truthfully say that this is the proudest moment of my life.

It is said that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. How delightful to realize that we have something on this proverbial prophet. You have honored me as no other citizen has been honored in my day and generation, and so gentlemen of the committee, let me express to you personally, and through you and this audience to the people of Alexandria, my everlasting sense of obligation and gratitude, and wish you God's blessing to the end of time.

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer opened his address by declaring that it was a pleasure to sit in this unusual meeting. He said he was delighted to have a part in anything called to do honor to Mr. Carlin. He said he served in Congress with Mr. Carlin and had learned to love and admire him.

Mr. Palmer facetiously remarked that he retired from Congress as Mr. Carlin did but his constituents never called him and gave him a chest of silver and a gold watch.

Boost Carlin For Governor

He said that after listening to the tribute paid Mr. Carlin and hearing of the various offices he has held during his career as a public man he thought the citizens should begin saving their pennies and present him with a golden service when he becomes governor of the state of Virginia.

The speaker said he did not believe Mr. Carlin had retired. Mr. Carlin, he told his hearers, performed a great service, and he did not think any man was more interested in the work for his country, state and city than was Mr. Carlin.

Mr. Palmer said he was happy and proud of the success Mr. Carlin is achieving, although he regretted that he has left the halls of Congress as he realized that there never was a time before in the history of the world when brains were more needed than now.

Problems of the Day

Taking up the day's problems confronting the country Mr. Palmer said we are at a critical hour in our country's life. "The war has left us with problems to solve, and I fear that during the progress of solution there may be much trouble.

We have solved the problem of war. The American people met the situation with unanimity. It was the 1,110,000,000 million American people who won the war. On every side the greatest supporting force was the line of Americans.

After the treaty is signed there will come a bigger job of making America bigger to the world. The war has taught us that the world is small. Everything that may happen to any nation on earth is a part of our business because a reaction may effect us. No longer shall we play the laggards part and America hereafter shall play the leaders part. We must be careful to set a good example and turn our attention to these difficult problems at our doors.

Class agitation is at our doors and the high cost of living. There is a close connection between these The unrest as long as it prevails in American minds need not worry American citizens. However, when the discontent is in the minds of those opposed to America it becomes a danger in the country.

Radicals a Menace

The real menace is the inability of foreigners to understand our form of government. They think government and tyranny are synonymous. If they are followed by American citizens they may become even a greater menace.

If these people come here with the same ideas they ought to go back where they came from and where they have a real grievance and not remain here where it is imaginary.

As I told a delegation of steel strikers this afternoon that they had a right to hold all of the meetings they pleased, but when they would use force they have stepped over the dead line.

Advocates of force should be published as it should be a crime. It would be easy to draw the line between free speech and seditious talk.

We have got to be working on the problems which worry the people and we have got to work them better if we want permanent happiness. Money and labor are necessary, one as the other.

Want no Dictatorship

What we want to make certain of is there will be no dictatorship in the United States of money or labor. Our striving should be the middle grounds. We have arrived at the point when we should give to money and labor a more equitable distribution. Freedom of opportunity will be open to money and labor to bring happiness to our people.

Another problem is the high cost of living. It is real and serious. It is important because it effects everybody. No income is so large that it is not disturbed by this problem.

Discusses H. C. L.

If the present inocrease continues it will result in industrial disaster, this, however, may be solved by the American people. Many of its causes rest with the American people and can be cured by them.

When the armistice was signed stock was being made for destruction and not construction. The law of supply and demand regulated this. The borrowing of the nation also helped to increase the cost of things, the expansion of money and current credit. Money today is cheaper and it takes more to buy hence prices are higher.

Prices will be high for a considerable time to come, as the people have more to pay with. The high level has been made a false level in many places because they add on their particular line.

There are two ways by which the people may help solve this. The first is by work. I venture to say that if all work more than they do at present prices will drop twenty per cent. If there were an industrial truce to have all work to their capacity we would not hear any more about the high cost of living. The more produced the more divided

Organized Extravagance

Another thing is organized extravagance. Some people are spending money like drunken sailors. Retail shop keepers say there is a heavy demand for high priced articles. This keeps prices up. The people would do the country the greatest service by wearing clothes and shoes until they are threadbare and the result will be a decrease in prices.

The real menace is the fear that the workers and their children will go hungry this winter. Unless we can do something to get prices down starvation and death will face many in the great cities in the country this winter. We should get everybody to help to increase the production.

The affair was opened with a solo by Signora Paolo Tucceimei with Miss Virginia Schwab as accompanist and a solo was given by Kenneth W. Ogden with Sherman B. Fowler as accompanist. At the conclusion of the speeches the audience sang "America."

Miss Helen N. Cummings, president of the Cameron Club, presided, and other members of the club on the stage were Miss Margaret Ashby, Miss Constance Boush, Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, Mrs. John M. Johnson, Mrs. George T. Klipstein, and Mrs. William J. Morton. In addition Messrs. Geo. E. Warfield, Carroll Pierce, Laurence Perry and Robert S. Jones also occupied seats on the stage.

READY FOR THE MINERS' STRIKE

Only Miracle, it is Said, Can Now Prevent Walkout

500,000 MEN TO QUIT

All Forces of the Government Will Be Mobilized to Prevent Public Disaster.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—Nothing less than a modern miracle it appeared early today, can prevent a strike of the bituminous coal miners of the nation at midnight tonight.

Between four and five hundred thousand men, according to estimates made at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America, will lay down their tools in open defiance of high officials of the Federal and State Governments.

The men demand a six-hour day, a five-day week, and a 60 per cent wage increase.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The Cabinet yesterday at a special session considered and ratified plans for the mobilization of all the forces of the government necessary to control the coal strike so as to prevent public disaster.

At the conclusion of the Cabinet session Attorney General Palmer, the authorized spokesman, made the following statement:

"President Wilson will be asked to make an order cancelling the suspension of restrictions as to the price of coal, which will have the effect of restoring the maximum prices. Upon the making of that order the Fuel Administrator will take such action as may be necessary to protect consumers, both as to price and distribution of fuel."

Secretary of War Baker, when asked about the War Department's preparations, replied:

"The War Department's function in connection with the coal strike is not a primary one. The War Department is always ready to act when need arises."

The Department of Justice has sent representatives to Indianapolis to seek an injunction to restrain the strike leaders from calling a strike.

The War Department, maintaining war-time secrecy, has thousands of troops in readiness to prevent disorder and to afford protection to those who will defy the strike order. Troops movements have been made quietly, and departmental commanders have been issued wide authority in responding to calls for help.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX DIES

Short Beach, Conn., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, noted writer and psychic, died here yesterday, just a few weeks after she had completed a work she termed her "swan song."

The book is a translation of Leon Denis' "Life and Destiny," a psychic treatise in French. While working on it in France nine months ago she suffered a nervous breakdown from which she never recovered.

SHIP NAMED FOR DISTRICT COLUMBIA

LAUNCHED IN JUNE

Commissioner Brownlow and Others Present at Ceremony at Plant of Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation.

The first rivet in the Steamship District of Columbia was driven at 9 o'clock this morning at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation by Senator Wesley L. Jones, of Washington State, accompanied by District Commissioner Brownlow.

Senator Jones is chairman of the senate committee on appropriations and also is a member of the committee in charge of the District appropriation.

The work on the steamship which will be 9,400 tons deadweight, similar to the ones already constructed, will be vigorously pushed to completion and the launching of this ship will take place in June next year.

Officials of the District of Columbia plan to make this launching a memorable affair and the preliminary plans already have been discussed for its launching.

In addition to Mr. Brownlow a number of officials of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation witnessed the driving of the first rivet for the ship to be named in honor of the District of Columbia.

TROOPS IN READINESS

Three Thousand Entrain for Duty at the West Virginia Mines

Chicago, Oct. 31.—It was learned last night that the First Division, U. S. Infantry, comprising 3,000 men, have been ordered to proceed to the West Virginia coal fields for strike duty.

The division, it is reported, was to entrain at Louisville at midnight last night.

A dispatch from Louisville said that a special train carrying 800 men of the "Riot Battalion" of the First Division under command of Col. W. S. Harrell, entrained at Camp Taylor and departed at midnight for Huntington, W. Va., for guard duty in the West Virginia coal fields.

"THE TROUBLES OF A POLITICIAN."

A large congregation last evening in the First Baptist Church heard Rev. H. I. Stewart, of Washington, and there was marked manifestation of interest by a number. He spoke upon one of the most notorious politicians of all time—Pilate, who for popularity had bartered away God's greatest had bartered on earth—the life of His Son. "'What then shall I do with Jesus?" was with Pilate a hard question, but he had done the wrong thing with Him after being persuaded that he was no imposter.

Dr. Stewart made a very effective appeal that the question is a vital one in each life because every one needs Jesus Christ. Our acceptance of Christ will make possible his coming into the life of the individual. Then, he argued that Christ needs us to bring in the Kingdom. Not angels can do the work he would have us do. He made a powerful appeal in saying that now Christ is our advocate or lawyer, for "if any man sin he hath an advocate with the Father." But one day he will be our judge in the great time of rectification.

Certainly the meeting has gotten at the heart of Alexandria, and a large part of the evening audiences is composed of men. The meetings will extend over Sunday and there will be an exchange of pulpits Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. Jackson and Mr. Stewart.

The service is at 7:45 and the topic is: "Family Jars." Mr. Stewart will address the Baraca Class on Sunday morning.

SUSPECTED FOOTPADS

Two Negroes With a Pistol and Bullets Found Loitering at Stone Bridge Last Night.

At a late hour last night Officer Morris accosted two strange negroes at Stone Bridge (Duke street extended). One of the two cast from a pistol when the officer approached. Both were placed under arrest and upon reaching the station house they were searched. A handful of cartridges was found in a pocket of one of the negroes, although but one pistol could be found. There is reason to believe both had pistols which they threw away when they anticipated arrest.

The prisoners were brought before the Police Court this morning, when they gave their nams as George Taylor and William Green. The former said he was from Washington and Green alleged he is from Alexandria county. They claimed they came here looking for work.

They were fined $100 each. The assessments were not met, and the prisoners will probably spend the next three months in jail or upon the State roads.

A number of holdups have recently been reported in West End.

WILL PRODUCE OWN PLAY

New York, Oct. 31.—John Armstrong Chaloner, recently victor in a twenty-two-year fight to be declared sane in New York is to go on the stage. He announced recently that he was to appear in a Broadway production in his own play, "Robbery Under Law," written five years ago as part of his crusade for lunacy-law reform. Mr. Chaloner will take the part of the hero, Hugh Stutfield.

"The character and adventures of Hugh Stutfield," Mr. Chaloner said, "are mere photographs of myself, and my experiences at the hands of the present iniquitous lunacy (so-called) law of the State of New York and some 40 per cent of the other States in this enlightened Union."

A FITTING TRIBUTE

There was joy in the air both within and without the Elks' Hall last night. A large concourse of representative Alexandrians had gathered to do honor to one of the city's noblest sons, Hon. C. C. Carlin, who during a period of twelve years represented the Alexandria district in the House of Representatives. Th ovation was ex animo, enthusiasm being manifest in every soul in the large auditorium. The people had come together to make a substantial exhibition of their appreciation of Mr. Carlin's services during the time he was their representative and at a time when our old city is forging rapidly ahead by reason of the great plants brought to Alexandria through his labors. Though no longer our Congressman, monuments commemorating his services are already Alexandria institutions and will be looked upon with pride by other generations who will rise up and proclaim blessed the man who gave such impetus to the city of his birth.

A handsome gold watch and chest of silver were tendered Mr. Carlin. The presentation speech was made by Mr. M. B. Harlow, who successfully vied with Mr. Carlin in bringing about the metamorphosing of Alexandria by doubling the population of the city and affording remunerative positions to thousands of artisans.

Mr. Carlin's response was from the soul, although as is the case with all of us at times, he was virtually unable to frame language to properly express his appreciation of his Alexandria friends. Among other things he said he was anxious to do more for his own city. While no longer in Congress, these words mean much, as our former Representative is in a position to look out for commercial interests, and that he will avail himself of every opportunity to augment the work he has so faithfully performed goes without saying.

A pleasant feature of the ovation was the presence of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, who delivered an interesting talk. Among other things Mr. Palmer suggested that our people should begin now to lay aside their pennies to buy a silver service for Mr. Carlin when he takes his seat in the Governor's chair.

Judge J. K. M. Norton voiced the sentiments of the audience in a brief but appropriate talk in which he lauded the work of Mr. Carlin both in and out of Congress.

The ovation was under the auspices of the Cameron Club, and each number upon the program was conducted with precision.

"OUTSIDE THE PALE OF THE LAW."

It may be taken for granted that the strike of the soft coal miners cannot be carried on for long, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. "No great strike can succeed without public approval, and the attitude of the coal leaders is one of utter contempt for the law, of defiance of public sentiment, of the scrapping of their own contracts.

In the face of the appeal of President Wilson, the miners' leaders have proceeded to order the holdup, not only of the operators, but the public in general. In doing so they are, according to Attorney General Palmer, "outside the pale of the law."

"Here, then, is a strike that starts under the cloud of illegality and of broken contracts—a strike which, could it succeed, would before long menace the entire nation. Without coal, railroads cannot run and mills be operated. A few radicals, in control of the soft coal miners—largely foreigners, these miners—are playing a desperate game to enhance their own power. For the hundred of thousands of workers not of the miners' organization they have no regard. They would starve the country if they could. But public sentiment will be too strong for them."

WASTING OTHERS' TIME

How much of other people's time do you waste in a day? There are plenty of ways of doing it. As a contemporary says, "Not a soul that comes in contact with others but has a chance to waste their time. The clerk who takes forever to wrap up a package; the passenger who consumes half a minute in stepping aboard a street car; the street car conductor who opens the wrong door or who kills your 15 minutes of meditation by his whistling; the guest who is late or early—one is as inconsiderate as the other; the worker who quits 10 minutes too soon, so as to be ready for the street when the whistle blows; the employer who chooses a busy hour for one of those "conferences" which are usually a monologue spoken by himself; the clubwoman who defies all the parliamentarism in the world with her chatter; the traveler who holds up the line at the ticket window with a series of foolish inquiries; the caller in business hours who has nothing to do and has decided to do it in your office; yourself, when others are waiting for you and you might easily have been ready—there is no end to the ways of waste, and nearly everyone is guilty of them."

MRS. TAYLOE ENDS LIFE

Wife of Wealthy Virginian Made Despondent by Illness

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 31.—Despondent from long illness, Mrs. Gertrude Tayloe, wife of Edward D. Tayloe, one of the wealthiest residents of this section, shot herself dead last night in the fashionable Miramont apartments, at the University. She had been in ill health for the past year, suffering from heart trouble, and returned only a few weeks ago from Lake Champlain, Vt., where she had gone to recuperate.

Mrs. Tayloe was before marriage Miss Gertrude Walke, and came of a prominent Norfolk family. Eleven years ago she married Edward D. Tayloe, also of Norfolk, whose grandparents lived at Mount Airy, on the Rappahannock.

Mrs. Tayloe was the fourth member of the Walke family to meet an untimely end. An uncle jumped from a boat and was drowned; her only brother, Middleton T. Walke, temporarily crazed from overstudy, committed suicide in 1908 while a student in the University of Virginia law school, and her father ended his life a few weeks later. Last year a man and his wife, tenants on the Tayloe farm, "Windsor," near Ivy, put bullets through their brains in the same week.

DODSON KILLING USE OF CALOMEL

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the South. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor an dambition.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must keep your body free from poisonous wastes. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effect. Take one nightly and note results. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually. 10c and 25c.

Corns Come Off Like Banana Peel

"Gets-It" Leaves Toe Smooth As Your Palm. Never Fails.

Ever peel off a banana skin? Well that's the way "Gets-It" peels off any corn or callus. It's a picnic. Nothing else in the world will do it but "Gets-It" because of the new secret principle in the "Gets-It" formula. "Gets-It" does away forever with "contraptions," "wrappy" plasters, ointments that rub off, bloodletting knives, and scissors that snip into the "quick." "Gets-It" eases pain. It takes but a second or two to use "Gets-It." There's no fussing or trouble. It dries immediately. You put your stocking right back on again. Your corn will come off painlessly in one complete piece. That's common-sense. It never fails. "Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"BAYER CROSS" ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" to be genuine must be marked with the safety "Bayer Cross." Always buy an unbroken Bayer package which contains proper directions to safely relieve Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Colds and pain. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents at drug stores—larger packages also. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

HON. J. H. DODGE

Candidate for State Senate

(This brief biographical sketch is published for the information of those who are not acquainted personally with Mr. Dodge.)

J. H Dodge was reared on a farm just east of the town of Manassas, Va., He is a scientific, technically trained, practical farmer, educator and business man He is in every sense a true Southern gentleman, having secured his education in the public and private schools of Manassas at the Virginia State Normal, at the College of William and Mary, and at the University of Virginia. He has also studied in Baltimore, Chicago, and other educational centers. In his teaching experience he has filled the following positions with marked success: Instructor in State Model School at Williamsburg, Principal of Herndon Graded and High School, President of Tazewell college, and at Tazewell, Va., founded and established his own business and normal college, which he conducted with marked business ability for six years, until it was unfortunately destroyed by fire. He was for a period of years supervising principal of two of the largest high schools in Wise county, and also principal of the Phoebus schools. He has for the past ten years resided on his farm one mile south of Manassas, where he has followed intensive farming, combining with it, a part of the time, educational work as professor of the chair of mathematics and accounting, at Eastern College.

Mr. Dodge is a widely experienced liberal, broad minded, public spirited citizen. From mere youth he has always taken a very active part in all that tends to the betterment of the communities in which he has lived, and is an active member of the Red Cross, Farmers' Institute, Civic League, etc. He is an officer of the Presbyterian Church and superintendents of Sunday school, a director of the Fair Association, State Forest Warden of Northern Virginia, etc.

Mr. Dodge is forty-five years old, and in 1909 he married a Miss Fitzhugh-Dunnaway, of prominent Virginia families. He would make an able, efficient and dignified representative in the General Assembly.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

OFFICE OF

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1918, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 3, 1908.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 32 of article 2 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate, the house of delegates concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be, and the same is hereby, proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section thirty-two, which is in the following words:

Sec. 32. Every person qualified to vote shall be eligible to any office of the State, or of any county, city, town or other subdivision of the State, wherein he resides, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, and except that this provision as to residence shall not apply to any office elective by the people where the law provides otherwise. Men and women eighteen years of age shall be eligible to the office of notary public, and qualified to execute the bonds required of them in that capacity.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 32. Every person qualified to vote shall be eligible to any office of the State, or of any county, city, town or other subdivision of the State, wherein he resides, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, and except that this provision as to residence shall not apply to any office elective by the people where the law provides otherwise; and except, further, that the requirements of this section as to residence and voting qualifications shall not apply in the appointment of persons to fill positions under a municipal government requiring special technical or professional training and experience. Men and women eighteen years of age shall be eligible to the office of notary public and qualified to execute the bonds required of them in that capacity.

Resolved by the senate, the house of delegates concurring, (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-eight, which is in the following words:

Section 138. The general assembly may, in its discretion provide for the compulsory education of children between the ages of eight and twelve years, except such as are weak in body or mind, or can read and write, or are attending private schools, or are excused for cause by the district school trustees.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 138. The general assembly may, in its discretion, provide for the compulsory education of children of school age.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 117 of article 8 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate and the house of delegates (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of senators and members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Section 117. General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house; and except also in the case of cities having more than fifty thousand inhabitants, as hereinafter provided. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this amendment a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended so as to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Notwithstanding, however, anything in this article contained the general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in this section expressly provided) from the form of organization and government prescribed by this article for cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by the second paragraph of this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population, but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city.

Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurer and city sergeants.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 117. (a) General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this Constitution a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

(b) The general assembly may, by general law or by special act, (passed in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution), provide for the organization and government of cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, unaffected by any of the provisions of this article, except those of sections one hundred and twenty-four, one hundred and twenty-five (except so far as the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-five recognize the office of mayor and the power of veto), one hundred and twenty-six, one hundred and twenty-seven, and one hundred and twenty-eight, for the government of any city or town having a population of over fifty thousand, according to the last census, and those mentioned in sub-section (d) of this section. The form of council provided in any of said sections shall include the body exercising the principal legislative authority for the city or town, and all ordinances of council and resolutions adopted by such body shall have the same force and effect for all purposes, as if enacted or adopted in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-three of this article. But such organization and government shall apply only to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of those qualified voters of any such city or town voting in an election to be held for the purpose, as may be provided by law.

(c) The general assembly, at the request of any city or town made in manner provided by law, may grant to it any special form of organization and government authorized by sub-section (b) of this section, and subject to all of the provisions of that sub-section, except that it shall not be necessary for such city or town to thereafter adopt the same.

(d) Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

(e) Any form of organization and government authorized by any provision of this section which may have been adopted heretofore by any city or town pursuant to any act of the general assembly enacted before such provision became effective and which is now in operation, is hereby declared legal and valid ab initio, and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been authorized by this Constitution at the time of its adoption.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (the majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to section one hundred and thirty-three, article nine, of the Constitution of Virginia, be and is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly at the first regular session held after the next general election of members of the house of delegates for its concurrence in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-three of article nine, which is in the following words:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be not more than three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

Men and women may serve as school trustees in said districts, and in cities and in towns forming separate school districts.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing) That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and eighty-four, which is in the following words:

Section 134. No debt shall be contracted by the State except to meet casual deficits in the revenue, to redeem a previous liability of the State, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion, or defend the State in time of war. No scrip, certificate, or other evidence of State indebtedness shall be issued, except for the transfer or redemption of stock previously issued, or for such debts as are expressly authorized in this Constitution.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 134. No debt shall be contracted by the State except to construct, or reconstruct, public roads, to meet casual deficits in the revenue, to redeem a previous liability of the State, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion, or defend the State in time of war. No scrip, certificate, or other evidences of State indebtedness, shall be issued except for the transfer or redemption of stock previously issued, or for such debts as are expressly authorized in this Constitution.

A RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 136 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next session of the general assembly.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-six, which is in the following words:

Section 136. Each county, city, town, if the same be a separate school district, and school district is authorized to raise additional sums by a tax on property, not to exceed in the aggregate five mills on the dollar in any one year, to be apportioned and expended by the local school authorities of said counties, cities, towns and districts in establishing and maintaining such schools as in their judgment the public welfare may require; provided, that such primary schools as may be established in any school year, shall be maintained at least four months of that school year, before any part of the fund assessed and collected may be devoted to the establishment of schools of higher grade. The boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the councils of the several cities, and towns if the same be separate school districts, shall provide for the levy and collection of such local school taxes.

Section 136. Each county, city, town, if the same be a separate school district, and school district is authorized to raise additional sums by a tax on property, not to exceed in the aggregate in any one year a rate of levy to be fixed by law, to be apportioned and expended by the local school authorities of said counties, cities, towns and districts in establishing and maintaining such schools as in their judgment the public welfare may require; provided that such primary schools as may be established in any school year, shall be maintained at least four months of that school year, before any part of the fund assessed and collected may be devoted to the establishment of schools of higher grade. The boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the councils of the several cities, and towns if the same be separate school districts, shall provide for the levy and collection of such local school taxes.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of amendments proposed to the Constitution and agreed to by the General Assembly of Virginia, session 1918, and the same is published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act of the General Assembly, approved February 3, 1908.

JOHN W. WILLIAMS,
Clerk House of Delegates of Virginia.

The Maker Back of the Clothes

WHEN the demand is greater than the supply any kind of goods will find a market.

That's the condition in the clothing world this Fall. It is doubly important to know the clothes you buy and the Maker back of the clothes.

The House of Kuppenheimer will not attempt this season greatly to increase its production.

It does guarantee to maintain the quality standard of every suit and overcoat it turns out.
